Compulsory accident insurance

Pursuant to Federal Accident Insurance Act (UVG) of 20 March 1981

Extended insurance cover

Employees who have compulsory non-occupational accident insurance may extend this cover by special agreement for a maximum of six consecutive months after the end of their compulsory insurance. Non-occupational accident insurance ends on the 30th day following the day on which the employee's entitlement to at least half of their salary ends.

The UVG extended cover policy provides the same benefits as compulsory non-occupational accident insurance and must be taken out within the additional coverage period of 31 days after their employment has ended by paying the corresponding premium. The forms and payment slips for this purpose can be obtained from your employer (HR department), HDI Global SE or at:

https://www.hdi.global/downloadcenter/CH_de/Unfallversicherung/formulare_de/Abredeversicherung_e.pdf

Employees are covered by compulsory insurance under the Swiss National Accident Insurance Fund (Suva) while receiving unemployment benefits, during waiting periods and on days on which work has ceased. They may conclude extended cover insurance with Suva within 30 days of the end of their entitlement to unemployment benefits.

Transferring to individual insurance

After leaving the UVG or UVG supplementary insurance, employees resident in Switzerland may transfer to the individual accident insurance of HDI Global SE without a medical examination. The right of transfer must be exercised within 90 days. The conditions and tariffs of individual insurance shall apply.

Informing the health insurer

Under the Swiss Federal Law on Health Insurance (Bundesgesetz über die Krankenversicherung or KVG), benefits are available in the event of accidents that are not covered by any accident insurance. Employees with compulsory insurance for both occupational and non-occupational accidents may suspend the accident cover provided by the KVG through a corresponding premium reduction. On leaving the company or at the end of the non-occupational accident insurance, employees who have suspended the accident cover under the KVG must inform their health insurer within one month of receipt of this information sheet that their comprehensive accident insurance pursuant to the UVG has ended (non-occupational accident cover for more than 8 working hours per week on average). Depending on the health insurer, the suspension applies to UVG extended cover as well.
